AN EDITRESS MURDERED.—Mrs. Fannie Willard, the fashion editress of the New York Sunday Times, was murdered by her lover, T. W. Burke, a policeman. The usual cause—jealousy. The following biography is from the Police Gazette:

Fannie Willard was a lady whose vicissitudes of fortune were as painful as they were varied. She seems to have all the wildness and irregularity of genius, with the sad fatality which too often attends the fatal gift. Few women of genius have ever yet been happy from Sappho to L. E. Landon. In their lives, to use the words of Shelley:

"They learn in suffering what they teach in song."

Mrs. Willard, or, more correctly speaking, Mrs. Seymour, was graduated at Springfield Seminary. She wrote poetry very sweetly, but her forte was prose. She was born at Springfield, Mass., and at an early age she wrote for the Waverly Magazine. About 1854 she ran away from her home, and got married to a man named Charles Seymour, a printer by profession, without her parents' consent. She and her husband subsequently went out West. He took to drinking, it is said, to excess, and she and he quarrelled, and they separated. While out West she, having been enterprising and industrious enough to have learned the printing business, worked on the Cleveland Plaindealer as a printer. After the separation from her husband she came on to New York and worked for Mr. William E. Chapin, of 24 Beekman street, as a printer, and in the same capacity for Mr. Henry Russell, printer for the Evangelist, and also for the Sunday Courier. From these papers she passed on to the Tribune, and finally became connected with the World, and was forewoman of the female printing department of that paper, where she was working when she met her disastrous fate.

She was a woman of singular fascination. Her dark, flashing eye, gave full indication of the intellect which she possessed. She was lady-like, always dressed in the height of the fashion, but never in bad taste. She was of the medium height. She contributed to several weekly papers in this city. To speak plainly, she was somewhat inclined to be gay, and if she took a liking to a man, she could lead him anywhere she pleased.

Altogether, taking this wretched tragedy in its totality and individuality, it is one of the most painful events it has been our duty to record for some time.

One fact most creditable to the poor murdered woman is that she, by her industry and talent, worked to support a widowed mother and an orphan brother.

THE WORLD MOVES.—If any man doubts the fact, let him read the announcement in this issue of the Times, that the Senate, always a conservative body, has passed bills to admit Nebraska and Colorado into the family of States, which bills contain the following provision:

"That this Act shall go into effect with the fundamental and perpetual condition, that within the said State of Nebraska there shall be no abridgement or denial of the elective franchise, or any other right, to any person, by reason of race or color, except Indians not taxed."

Furthermore, the same body has also just enacted a bill which provides that in no Territory of the United States shall there be any denial of the elective franchise on account of race or color, but all men shall be equal before the law. How great the change in public opinion since May, 1854, when the United States Senate interpolated the word "white" in the qualifications of voters, as contained in the Organic Act for the Territory of Montana. The House of Representatives of the Thirty-Eighth Congress, which had stricken out the offensive word, receded from its position and passed the bill, as amended in the Senate, by a vote of 102 yeas to 26 nays. If the present House is as true as we believe it to be, the day has come when no Territory governed by the United States shall deny equal rights to all men.—S. F. Times.

THE almighty dollar is making its way all over the world, and will probably become the standard coin when the commercial nations adopt a uniform currency. Beside its use in the United States and other American Republics, and as the commercial currency of China and the East, it is used in nearly all the European colonies. Lately, in Jamaica, the banks and colonial authorities refused to receive American coin at par, which caused great inconvenience, but an order from the Home Government has since legalized its use. The decimal system possesses such great advantages that, after becomincg accustomed to it, no community feel like making their calculations again in pounds, shillings and pence. And when decimal weights and measures are once introduced among us, we will doubtless be as loth to go back to our present system.

"DENNY, the well-known marine painter, is engaged on a series of twenty medium sized oil paintings, for General T. N. Caznenu, to illustrate the principal events attending the loss of the vessel on which his father was wrecked, upward of half a century ago—one of the most extraordinary cases of human suffering and endurance on record, the vessel having drifted at sea in a helpless condition for 120 days, during which time the crew was reduced to the alternative of feeding upon some of their own number, drawing lots to decide who should die to keep the others alive. It is intended to represent the moving scenes in this dread drama, from notes and sketches the late Captain Cazneau preserved, with scrupulous care, during the whole of his unusually long life."—San Francisco Times.

OVER $2,000,000 in mutilated and worn out notes have been returned to the Treasury, where they are placed in an immense revolving cylinder, carefully locked, through which a heated stream of acids passes, so that the ink is completely removed, and a mass of pulp remains. This is bleached and manufactured into envelopes for the use of the Treasury department. Large amounts of mutilated and worn out fractional currency are thus decomposed and reconstructed into envelopes.

JOSEPH NICHOLS has recovered $100 of the $10,000 which he wished to get from the proprietor of the Providence Journal for libel. Probably not enough to pay Mr. Nichols' lawyer.

Fernando Wood visited Savannah, Georgia, lately, and was escorted by prominent citizens to supper at Fireman's Hall, where he was expected to make a speech.

The Admission of Utah as a State.

The Daily Telegraph of this city, for some days past, has been diligently engaged in attempting to show why Utah should be admitted as a State into the Union; or rather the weakness of the real and supposed arguments against such admission. That is it has succeeded in convincing itself that Utah should forthwith be invested with all the high prerogatives and powers of a sovereign State, is not unlikely. But whether its suggestions and reasons will commend themselves to the judgment of Congress and those ungodly folks, called Gentiles, is quite another question.

It is rather amusing than otherwise to follow some of the arguments of our contemporary. It is a very old ruse for one who is endeavoring to uphold a fallacy, to premise with certain supposed (all very weak) suggestions on the part of his opponents, and then proceed gravely and deliberately to expose that very weakness. Orators and writers are much given to attributing some ridiculous position to their antagonists, and then with great complacency showing up that ridiculousness. In other words, they indulge in the interesting amusement of setting up pins which will hardly stand by themselves, and then valorously and triumphantly knocking them down. As an instance of this style of rhetoric and "strategy, my boy," the Telegraph man exhausts a whole column to rebut the alleged objection that somebody opposes the admission of Utah, "because the Mormons will not engage in gold and silver mining." He gravely asks to be pointed to the clause in the Constitution which requires the citizen to abandon other pursuits and commence delving for precious metals! Now, whenever anybody in Congress or out of it, shall allege any such ridiculous nonsense, we submit that it will be time enough to gravely meet and overthrow it.

The Telegraph says a great many very proper things in praise of agriculture and manufactures, and in which we can heartily concur, but it is rather beside the question, and can only apply to an objection which exists only in the columns of that paper, or the somewhat fertile imaginations of its editors.

We think we can remember, not that anybody objected to the Mormons refraining from working the mines of Utah, but to the persistent and organized efforts of the Church to prevent either its own members or others from developing the mineral wealth of the Territory. That the Church leaders have done and continue to do all in their power to prevent and retard the development of the mines everybody knows. To what extent those preventive measures have gone it is unnecessary here to recapitulate, or whether they have been confined simply to "counsel." What is claimed is, that Utah like the other Territories of the nation is the property and heritage of the whole people, and that, as such, every citizen has the right and should be secured in the privilege of discovering, working and developing her mines. This right cannot now be openly and successfully denied by Territorial legislation, however much it may be restricted by "counsel" or Church opposition. But once invest Utah, in her present condition and under the auspices of the Church as it exists, with the authority and power of a sovereign State, and who does not know how decidedly warm it would be made for those enterprising miners who might desire to prospect and delve for the precious ore? The Telegraph understands this full well, and instead of directing its batteries against the imaginary wooden man it has set up, we advise it to tackle the reality, which has both substance and pith in it.

It is conceded on all hands to be to the interest of the nation at large that the resources of the public domain should be fully developed. Every ton of ore extracted, every ounce of gold or silver brought forth, every mill erected, every furnace built, whether it tend to enrich or impoverish the individual, adds so much to the National wealth. Hence the public domain is freely thrown open to all. The laws are liberal and designed to encourage enterprise and industry. The miner is told that he is guaranteed in his rights in these respects and every inducement offered which the country can properly give. On the other hand an entirely different view is taken by the authorities in Utah—whether wisely or not, we do not propose to discuss just now—but they believe and teach that the discovery of mines and their development will tend to bring an inimical population and interfere with, if not overthrow, the Church system, which is now omnipotent and irresistible. Every blow of the pick in the glistening ore sounds a knell in the ears of those who are not yet prepared to give up the sweets of power and temporal omnipotence. Hence mining is to be discouraged, retarded, repressed and stopped, if possible. While, then, Utah is maintained as a Territory, the protecting arm of the parent Government is extended throughout her limits; if not, indeed, to the extent desired, yet sufficiently, at least, to prevent and nullify the unfriendly legislation which, no one can doubt, would otherwise be enacted. The people of Utah, if left free to choose, have a perfect right to confine themselves to agriculture and useful manufactures, and to eschew entirely as well the mines, as the world, the flesh and the devil. We are not prepared to say that such course is unwise and injudicious. But on the other hand each one has the right to work mines with [illegible] direction from any authority church or [illegible], and every other citizen should be secured in the same right. This the point of the argument which our contemporary seems to have entirely and innocently overlooked.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, January 28.

In the Senate, Wade presented a petition for the removal of the Capital to a point near or the centre of population.

Wilson, from the Military Committee, reported the bill recently introduced by him, to abolish and prohibit peonage in the Territories.

Poland gave notice that when the one term amendment to the Constitution came up, he should move to amend by extending the Presidential term to six years. He was in favor of restricting the service of the President to one term, but believed it ought to be six years.

Trumbull called up the bill giving United States Judges power to grant writs of habeas corpus in all cases where any person is restrained of his liberty in violation of the Constitution or any law. The bill was verbally amended, and passed.

The Tariff bill came up. The duty on iron ore of one cent was reduced to ½ cent; on bay rum, $1.50 per gallon; on bunting, 50 cents per pound, ad valorem. Duty on all cotton hosiery, whether knitted, made in frames, or by hand, was fixed at 10 cents per pound, ad valorem. Umbrellas and parasols, 6 cents per dozen, ad valorem.

The House proceeded to consider Stevens' Reconstruction bill, and was addressed by Julian, Scofield and Cullom. The former declared himself against the bill, as he favored the territorial theory, and was in favor of keeping the rebel States from representation for an indefinite period.

Stevens amended the bill in several particulars, striking out the 6th section, which declared that any State abrogating the provisions of the bill should thereby forfeit representation.

Stevens appealed to Bingham to withdraw his motion to refer, arguing that the bill ought first to be ordered printed by the House, and then the motion to refer might be renewed.

Bingham asked the House to decide for itself, and declined to withdraw his motion.

Stevens said a reference of the bill would be its death.

Bingham did not recognize the authority of the venerable gentleman (Stevens) to say so.

Stevens reminded Bingham that he had not asked his authority, and did not propose either to take his counsel, recognize his authority, or believe a word he said.

The Speaker said the remarks of the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Stevens) were out of order.

After considerable discussion, the House voted to refer the bill—86 to 65. The Democratic members all voted in the affirmative.

House adjourned.

Washington, January 28.

General Thomas testified before the Congressional committee appointed to investigate the South Carolina murders that, in the Military department under his command, outrages committed upon freedmen are not punished, and there is no prospect of justice for blacks before the Courts. When asked what remedy he would propose, he replied, a supervisory military power.

The final vote in the Senate on the Tariff bill will probably be taken to-morrow.

New Orleans, January 28.

Vera Cruz advices of the 22d state that a French transport left with a heavy detachment of infantry for France, and others will immediately follow. The entire French force had arrived at Vera Cruz, en route for France, and additional transports were daily expected.

Chicago, January 28.

Among the Unionists voting to refer Stevens' Reconstruction bill were, Ashley of Nevada, McRuer, Banks, Bingham, Blaine, Conkling, Dawes, Dodge, Farnsworth, Garfield, Ingersoll, Jenks, Moorhead, Patterson, Pomeroy, Raymond, Schenck and Spaulding. Bidwell and Higby, of California, opposed the reference.

The House yesterday had a spicy debate on a motion by Loan to refer the Impeachment business to a special committee, to expedite the investigation. LeBlond challenged investigation. Wilson, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, declined to say what the committee were doing, but denied the correctness of the newspaper reports. Loan's motion was then laid over.

Chief Justice Chase yesterday announced a decision—four cases in one opinion—sustaining the right of the Federal Government to tax liquor, lottery, or other business, without thereby conferring authority to prosecute such business in conflict with State law.

The President yesterday sent to the Senate the correspondence between Seward and Motley. It is very racy, and shows that Seward purposely deceived Motley into tendering his resignation.

[BY CABLE.]

A telegram says that J. G. Bennett, Jr., tendered the yacht Henrietta to Prince Alfred, as a New Year's gift, but the offer was respectfully declined.

Frankfort, January 28.

Five-twenties are held at 72½.

Paris, January 28.

Five-twenties closed at 72 7-18.

Empress Carlotta is completely restored to health.

The King of Bavaria is to marry the sister of Francis Joseph of Austria.

Liverpool, January 28.

Breadstuffs are dull.

New Orleans, January 28.

The Louisiana Legislature met to-day. The message of Governor Wells was read and ordered printed. A committee of seven was appointed in the House to revise the Constitution of the State.

The French Consul in Mexico announces a free passage home to all French residents who desire to accompany the forces. A party of 800 have already left.

New York, January 29.

The Herald's Mexican advices say that the French authorities at Mazatlan executed German, the United States Consul, whereupon a U. S. gunboat bombarded the town eight hours.

The Herald's Ottawa special says Prince Alfred will be the first Governor and Royal Viceroy of Canada, under the Confederation.

A Times special says the House Judiciary Committee express a determination to finish the old business before commencing the Impeachment investigation.

The Tribune's special says that Clark, of the Currency Printing Bureau, explains the grave fact that 7-30 bonds with duplicate numbers have been printed and issued, by saying that the numbering machine cut out of order and repeated numbers.

New York, January 29.

Closing sales of stocks yesterday exhibited another heavy decline.

A. J. Meyer, who overdrew on the Bank of North America, was expelled from the Stock Board.

The steamships Baltic and Atlantic will resume their European trips in February.

Beecher's congregation are organizing an excursion to the Holy Land, Crimea, France, &c., and have chartered a steamer to leave in the [illegible]. Beecher and family go.

The Literary Scheme Drawing, which commenced yesterday, will realize [illegible] to $100,000, and leave nearly as much more for the managers.

The project for an air line railroad between New York and Washington will probably receive a favorable report in the Senate.

The Military bill passed the House last session. (?)

The correspondence between Seward and Motley, touching the latter's resignation, embraced two letters. Seward had been informed that Motley had spoken of him as "the old man," etc., and asked what Motley had to say to the charge. Motley answers that he would not stoop to make a denial. He had expressed himself freely concerning both the President and Congress. He thought distinctions on account of color should be abolished by Constitutional amendment, and that general amnesty should follow. He concludes by tendering his resignation, without assigning the cause.

New York, January 29.

At the meeting of the Board of Trade yesterday, Randall's Sinking Fund bill was generally condemned as encouraging a ruinous banking system, extremely detrimental to the business of the country.

The stock market is greatly excited; railway shares lower than ever. New York Central, 97⅞; Erie, 53⅞.

Washington, January 29.

Little progress made with the Gold bill; doubts are freely expressed by leading Senators whether it will be reported at all.

Senate confirmed George S. Hibbard as U. S. District Attorney for Massachusetts.

Washington, January 29.

The Senate Finance Committee, this forenoon, resumed the consideration of the Gold bill, as it came from the House. After a brief debate, a vote was taken and the bill rejected.

U. S. Treasurer Van Dyck's statement to the committee, touching alleged loans of public moneys in New York, appears to have been very satisfactory.

The Washington City Councils, after long delay, have agreed to pay over to the colored schools some $9,000, being the amount due by law.

FROM THE WEST.

[From the Sacramento Union.]

San Francisco, January 20.

The dance cellars and saloons where women are employed have not been closed at two o'clock in the morning, according to the terms of the ordinance amended to suit their demonds, and the police made a raid on them this morning, and arrested a number of the principal proprietors.

The deaths in San Francisco last week numbered fifty.

The old steamship Hermann has been thoroughly overhauled and fitted for the China trade, and came down from Mare Island, ready for sea, yesterday. She will be the next steamer for China, sailing about the 1st of February, and will be kept at Yokuhama as a spare boat when the other vessels of the line commence running. Captain M. P. Nolan will command her.

Sportsman's Hall, January 20.

Yesterday afternoon a fatal accident occurred at Blair's mill, about one mile from here. Matthew Blair, the eldest of the Blair brothers, was killed while engaged in sluicing sawdust. The water had washed a channel nearly fifteen feet deep through the bank of sawdust, and while the unfortunate man was working in the channel the bank caved in upon him. The alarm being given by a man working near by, a party of men immediately began the search for the body, which was at length found standing, the sawdust closely packed around it.

Portland (Or.), January 19.

The steamer New World has been purchased by a company to run an opposition on the Sound between Olympia and Victoria.

San Francisco, January 22.

The following order, issued to-day, relates to the sailing of additional troops for Arizona on Saturday next:

HEADQUARTERS DEP'T OF CALIFORNIA,
San Francisco, January 21, 1867.

Special Orders, No. 15.

Companies J and K, 8th Cavalry, now at Benicia, and F and K, of the 14th United States Infantry, now at the Presidio, will proceed, under the command of Colonel John J. Gregg, of the 8th United States Cavalry, by the next steamer, to Drum Barracks, whence they will march to the District of Prescott, Arizona, of which, on his arrival within its limits, Colonel Gregg will assume command.

His Imperial Majesty Norton I, Emperor of America, was arrested last evening by a policeman on the charge of insanity. Chief Crowley ordered him to be discharged from custody.

Private telegrams quote gold in New York yesterday at 136¾, and sterling at 109½: legal tenders are dull, 73 buying, 73½ selling.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY IN THE MANUFACTURE OF GAS.—In view of the excessive cost of gas on this coast, consequent on the cost of coal, the discovery of a new method for its manufacture, which will lessen its cost, will be read with interest. A mechanic, named Ensley, has created quite an excitement in Canada, and several of the Atlantic States, by discovering that a combination of the gases generated by the combustion of animal and vegetable matter, produces a much brighter, and far cheaper light than that produced by the carburetted hydrogen, now used, which is produced by the combustion of coal, with the additional and very great advantages of being prepared by a very simple process, and with an apparatus of but trifling cost. Patents [illegible] and the discoverer in the United States, France and England, [illegible] little doubt that it will work as great a revolution in the price of gas, as the discovery of coal oil has done in burning fluids. Like all new discoveries, it has to pass the ordeal of popular trial. If it is as represented, there is no portion of the United States that would be as largely benefitted by this discovery as California. In this city of San Francisco, alone, the annual cost of gas exceeds $3,000,000—and there is no city in the world, using gas, where it is as dear as it is here. The Canadian papers speak in glowing terms of this new discovery, which, it is hoped, will soon be introduced here.—San Francisco Times.

FATAL AFFRAY.—A most unhappy occurrence took place a day or two ago at the Medicine Bow Ranche on the overland route to Salt Lake, between two stage drivers and a ranchman, in which one of the former, Joseph Connor, got the worst of it, being instantly killed in the melee. The trouble occurred between Cooper's Creek and Elk Mountain stations, about 194 miles from Denver.—Denver Gazette, January 26th.

INDIANS ON THE RAMPANT.—The Denver News says that a messenger recently arrived at Fort Laramie, reports the formation of a coalition of twelve tribes of Indians, for the common cause against the whites, in the Territories of Dakota and Montana. The number of warriors included in the league is supposed to be about 17,000.

DELEGATE TO CONGRESS.—This morning we hoist at the head of our columns the name of William M'Grorty, of the firm of M'Grorty & Henry, of this city, as a candidate to represent the interests of Utah in the Fortieth Congress of the United States, which will convene on the 4th of March next. The election will take place on the first Monday of next month. Mr. M'Grorty is a gentleman of ability, a resident of this city, well known here and in New York, from which State he hails, and if elected will do honor to his constituents. He is the regular nominee for the position to which he aspires, as will be seen in our local columns, in the proceedings of the convention held yesterday in Independence Hall. There was a large number at the Hall, and those present exhibited a desire to nominate and elect a candidate who would creditably represent them in Washington.

FROM PAHRANAGAT.—We were called upon yesterday by Mr. Sanderson, one of the original locators of Pahranagat, who is en route from that place to the East. Mr. Sanderson left Pahranagat about a week ago, coming to Austin by the route explored by Governor Blasdel and party on their return trip last summer. He reports the road a fine natural one, and feed and water plenty. The prospects of Pahranagat are encouraging. About five hundred miners are in the district, and the attention of Eastern capitalists is being attracted toward it. Mr. Raymond, who is operating for a New York company, has a five stamp mill running on rock from the Illinois ledge. Owing to the refractory character of the ore, not above twenty per cent. of the assay value of the ore was saved in the first runs; but roasting furnaces have been erected and another run made, the proceeds of which were being cleaned up the day Mr. Sanderson left. Mr. Raymond informed him that the indications were that the new process would work the ore up to about ninety per cent., and consequently produce a result of from $125 to $175 per ton. Three steamers had arrived there during the season, and another was expected in a few days, which had on board the machinery for another mill. Freighting by the river does not appear to find favor with the settlers there, owing to the uncertainty and length of time consumed. The bulk of supplies will continue to be brought in by way of Austin and Salt Lake.—Virginia Enterprise, January 24th.

SCENE IN THE NEVADA LEGISLATURE.—Mr. Lissak—Last Friday while I was absent my name was handled rather unceremoniously, and that by the gentleman, Mr. Dorsey, from Lander, and inasmuch as he prefers not to associate with me on the committee, and with a desire not to let my presence in the committee interfere with the proper consideration of subject matters that may be submitted to it, I presume I had better be excused from serving with the gentleman. I proposed to speak with him on matters pending before the committee, and he refused a recognition. If he carries his prejudice to such an extent as to refuse to act with me in business matters, I must resign. In relation to the letter recently published in the Territorial Enterprise, which in part misrepresented my position, I have only to say that immediately after the election I met Mr. DeLong in Justice Murray's office on B street, and told him that I had been talked to by a large number of my constituents, who told me that they did not consider him Radical enough, and I told him that I did not want to send a Doolittle or a Cowan to the United States Senate from this State.

Mr. St. Clair—Is the House to understand that the gentleman tenders his resignation as Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means?

Mr. Lissak—Yes, sir; that is what I want to get at. I am not much of a parliamentarian.

Mr. St. Clair—I move the resignation be accepted. Agreed to.

THE San Francisco Times says the predictions of newspaper reporters concerning the forthcoming decision of the Supreme Court, on the lawyer's test oath question, had, to some extent, prepared the public mind for the news which we published yesterday; but thinking Union men were anxious to find reasons for doubting them. Now, that the decision is announced, and Judah P. Benjamin and Henry A. Wise are entitled to admission to practice in the tribunals of the country, surprise, indignation and mortification posses every sound mind. The Supreme Court, in 1865, adopted a rule requiring attorneys to take the oath required by Congress, and as late as last month that Court refused to allow a brief to be filed in the name of an old practitioner, of this city, who had not taken the oath before its clerk. Now it overturns its own decision and stultifies itself, by declaring that the oath, which it decided should be taken by every attorney, could not be constitutionally prescribed. Alas, for stare decisis! Nothing must stand by which rebels are inconvenienced; nothing must be set aside which they want should stand. The spirit of the Dred Scott decision is, that "No negro has any rights which a white man is bound to respect." The decision in the test oath case indicates that the same spirit still lives, and stands ready to judicially decree that the Government of the United States has no rights which a Southern rebel is bound to respect.

REPUDIATED.—The following card, signed by about fifty mercantile firms of Virginia City, is published in the Union of the 23d:

We, the undersigned citizens of Storey county, irrespective of political faith, feeling a common share of odium attach to us, as Hebrews, from the recent action of A. H. Lissak, in his base betrayal of Hon. C. E. DeLong, in the late Senatorial contest, beg leave, through the medium of your columns, to proclaim to the world, that without a single exception, to our knowledge the Jewish residents of Storey county repudiate him as a man unworthy of the countenance or association of any gentleman, be he Jew or Christian. We sincerely regret that the ingrate and traitor was of our religion or descent, and hereby publish him to our brethren throughout the world as one not fit to be trusted under any circumstances. Believing, as we do, that a traitor is not a fit man to represent us in the Legislature of this State, we therefore request him to resign his seat, and "leave the country for his country's good."

IS IT A FACT?—A party, in whose word we place reliance, has informed us to-day that a fine ledge of ore has been developed at the lower level of the Bullion mine, and that although the matter has been kept as secret as possible, large orders for stock have been filled within two days. If this be substantiated, it is an undoubted fact that the continuity of the Comstock ledge, from the Ophir to the Yellow Jacket, is beyond question, and if the ore be as good as taken from the lower level of the Hale & Norcross, all the long years of suspense and expense endured by owners in the Bullion, will be more than repaid. If the report be true, it is exceedingly well.—Virginia Union, 23d.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A STOCKTONIAN.—A dispatch from Visalia, dated on the 17th instant, says that on Monday last, Dr. H. Peake, formerly a resident of Stockton, but latterly of that place, stepped into a drug store while feeling a little unwell, and partook of what he supposed to be diluted ammonia, but which was really aqua ammonia. He was taken ill at once, and despite the exertions of physicians, died the next morning. Dr. Peake was a gentleman greatly admired among his neighbors, both as a physician and private citizen.—Independent.

CHANGED HANDS.—The Virginia Daily Union has changed hands. Church & Glessner are succeeded by W. J. Forbes, of the Humboldt Register. Mr. Forbes, in his salutatory, says:

Some changes will be made in the typographical appearance of the paper. A new title will be given it. It will be true to the Union, but will try for favor under a title which shall be a distinctive proper name. The business prospects of the paper is all that could be wished. The promise is bright for success, and I will try to do my part—and go with malice toward none, with charity for all, firm in the right as God gives us to see the right," here's a good afternoon to you.

The Enterprise remarks: "Mr. Forbes is a journalist of long experience, an able writer, a man of straight up and down character and with a head level on things generally. We trust his most sanguine expectations may be realized in his venture into daily journalism." We concur.

MR. MITCHELL, one of the colored members of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, was honored with a vote for Speaker.

JOE V. BAUGH, formerly of Denver, is locating on the St. Joe Union.

ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most prodigious medium for advertising in these four (4) Territories.

CONVENTION TO NOMINATE A DELEGATE TO CONGRESS.—Pursuant to notice in yesterday's VEDETTE, and hand-bills distributed throughout the city, a Convention was held in Independence Hall for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Delegate to our next Congress, which will convene on the 4th of March next. The meeting was called to order by R. N. Baskin, Esq., when General P. E. Connor was nominated and elected President, and P. L. Shoaff, Secretary of the meeting. General Connor, in a few remarks, informed the Convention of the object of its being called—that of nominating a candidate for Delegate to Congress, to be voted for at the ensuing spring election, and concluded by saying that the meeting was now ready to receive nominations. Mr. William M'Grorty, of the firm of M'Grorty & Henry, was then placed in nomination; and, there being no other nominations, Mr. Baskin moved that the vote be taken by acclamation, which was adopted, and Mr. M'Grorty unanimously nominated. Mr. M'Grorty being loudly called for, came forward and addressed the Convention in a brief but appropriate speech; accepting the nomination, and returning thanks for the honor conferred. On motion, the Convention adjourned sine die.

RETURNED.—Mr. Bassett, the Superintendent of the telegraphic medium of news, returned from Bridger on Monday night, and were space, we would with pleasure relate the events of his trip. We, however, will give such general information as he imparted to us. He says the snow is deep between this place and Bridger, and the travel is entirely on sleighs from Bridger to Hardie's station. He also reports that the commanding officer at that post has made many improvements in the quarters of both officers and men. Mr. Bassett returns highly delighted with his trip.

MOTHER EDITOR DECEASED.—Mr. Hawkins, who for a long time was editor of the Gold News, and who was appointed Consul at the port of Tumbez, Peru, about two years ago, died at that place on the 20th of November last. The News has this intelligence from Mr. Hawkins' late letter.

RAFFLE OFF.—The raffle of that splendid gift comes off at the Bank Exchange to-night at 8 o'clock. Every one holding a chance should be punctual. 1t

WOOD AND COAL.—Simpkins' Valley Wood and Coal Yard is doing a big business, because he sells the cheapest. 1t

THE SIAMESE TWINS.—These wonders of nature have come and gone. Our people saw them yesterday, many of them for the first time, and probably all of them for the last, as these personages are becoming too far advanced in life to make many more trips over the country. They are now about 56 years old, and it is said that there has never a cross word passed between them, nor have they ever pulled one another's hair. They go about very much together, and have obtained a wide experience by their acquaintance with the world. They are graybaired old men, and therefore, entitled to respect.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.—Governor Blasdel has appointed David E. Buell Commissioner to the World's Fair, at Paris. The Carson Appeal thus the following in connection with this appointment:

Some social gentlemen who were swapping stories recently took to discussing the fitness of Bill's appointment, when one of them set the party into a roar of laughter by quietly remarking, "Blasdel appoints Commissioners as a Chinaman buys boots."

The Denver Gazette says the excitement over the new gulch diggings on the San Juan river, a tributary of the Colorado about 400 miles south of Denver, is on the increase. Fifteen men left here yesterday, bound for the scene of new discoveries, and we hear of more going. It appears the ground was struck by a party of Frenchmen, who have sent word to their friends. The prospects obtained are said to range from ten to twenty-five cents to the pan.

The Denver News says the 13th United States Infantry arrived at Omaha on the 12th inst., en route for the Indian country that they will winter at Fort Phil Kearny. They number one hundred and fifty men, mostly veterans, and are to be followed by three hundred recruits for the same regiment. Infantry troops are going into that country make ready game for the Indians, but they will give but little trouble on to travel or settlements.

THE STORM ON THE SIERRAS.—Mr. Gray, driver of the Pioneer stages, showed us a dispatch this morning which stated that the snow on the summit, via Donner Lake, was very deep and that the storm was increasing. Gray's stage was several hours behind time, and we may not expect many mails or stages before to-morrow.—Virginia Union, 23d.

OVERLAND MAIL SERVICE.—Senator Conness, of California, on the 16th instant, introduced in the National Senate a bill to provide ocean mail service between San Francisco and Portland, Oregon—the mail to leave San Francisco on the arrival of each steamer from Panama—this services not to cost more than $500,000 annually.

SCHOOL MASTER ABROAD.—The Stockton Independent is resposible for the following:

A notice of estray animals was found posted in this city, and handed us a few days since. "Won mous colard Jinny bought For Cash now Brands."

The New York papers state that this is the dullest season of the year in trade, and the fashionable circles.

The Supreme Court of New Jersey has decided the liquor law of that State is not constitutional.

It is said that a county in Wisconsin will exhibit specimen shingles to the Paris Exposition.

A New York politician, Isaiah Rynders, is writing his autobiography,

The Herald office, near the Astor House, New York City, rents for $10,000 a year.

Cotton, Tenn., [illegible] sold last month at 6 cents per pound.

A plan for the central monument for the Gettysburg National Cemetery, has been settled. It is to be a white marble shaft, 300 feet high, costing $47,500, with bronze statues by Rogers.

A letter comes from Turk's Island that Count Geffrard, of Hayti, has been poisoned.

The law of Alabama, punishing horse stealing with death, went into effect on the 1st of January.
